- It is advisable for each church to have a policy as to whether fees of the type listed above paid to their pastor or member are for the benefit of the church or the person.
- If fees are to be for the benefit of the person, it is further recommended that the policy indicates whether payments are to be made directly or through the church books. Consideration of section 8.3 and 9.3 of the Code of Ethics (and Companion) for Pastoral Leadership is commended in consideration if this issue.
- Fees of this type received by persons may be assessable income to be declared on the person’s tax return form. Please refer to the tax office or a registered tax agent for clarification.
- Fees for services listed above are advisory only. Persons providing services may choose to waive fees at their discretion, and could charge a higher fee where reasonable cause can be demonstrated and prior advice is given to the service recipient.
